

Cards Against Cryptography is shamelessly based on Cards Against Humanity, which was released under a Creative Commons BY-NC-SA 2.0 license.

Cards Against Cryptography is released under the same license, which means you can use, remix, and share the game for free, but cannot sell it.

The source code and printable PDF versions of Cards Against Cryptography are available online at <https://github.com/CardsAgainstCryptography/>. You can also submit pull requests to propose new cards.

Cards Against Cryptography

